

Vibrational Medicine: The Healing Power of Sound

February 24th, 25th & 26th 2012

The Old School House at The Brew House Hotel
Tunbridge Wells, Kent www.thebrewhousehotel.net

A three day foundational workshop to explore bio-resonance and the use of sound into the physical and subtle bodies.

Sound has been used therapeutically both in antiquity and in modern medicine. For the modern day practitioner the use of musical tuning forks on and off the body offers a diagnostic and therapeutic modality which is safe, reliable and very effective. This time tested, coherent system is easy to incorporate directly into your clinic as an adjunct to the techniques you currently employ.

SOUND FOUNDATION INCLUDES

- The body as a hologram
- The concept of the 'Still Point' through sound
- Sound through the main nerve/gland centres and the Chakra system
- Sound through the joints and limbs
- Sound through the brain and the spine
- Sound resonance through the cranio-sacral system
- Sound in trauma resolution
- Locating specific points of dissonance for sound application & remedy testing
- On and off body application of sound
- Clearing static and anchoring the human energy field using the perfect 5th

A well balanced mix of theory and practical work taught by trainers with 35 years combined experience in working therapeutically with Sound. Your trainers are:

Peter Goldman D.O., N.D.

An internationally recognised trainer in the field of spiritual psycho-therapeutics and bio-energetic medicine using light, colour and sound.

Geoffrey Montague-Smith D.O.

Principle of the Atman Clinic in Tunbridge Wells, Kent, a large multi-disciplinary practice which clinically integrates leading edge concepts in bio-energetic medicine with standard Osteopathic practice
